Russians Try To Drive A Hard Bargain

PEIPING, Oct. 23 (Reuter)—Despatches from Harbin indicate that the Nomonhan Truce negotiations have reached a deadlock, principally owing to the Russian efforts to drive a hard bargain following their victory which preceded the truce of Sept. 15.

It is stated that Russia has already secured some concessions from Japan, like the closing of one anti-Soviet organisation in Harbin and the re-opening of various Soviet agencies there which were closed down for some time.

BUSINESS COMPLETED "All business was completed by Oct. 21. The execution of the truce and exchange of corpses and war prisoners had been carried out smoothly.

Consequently, since the end of September, negotiations had been started regarding the treatment of war prisoners and deserters and extradition of those detained in the past who had no connection with the Nomonhan Incident, Negotiations, however, reached a deadlock on Oct. 21.

AVOIDING DELAY "With a view of avoiding delay in the execution of business on the spot, the Kwantung Army has decided to refer the settlement of pending questions to another body of negotiators on the spot."

The suspension of negotiations, it is understood, was done with the full understanding of the Japanese and Soviet military authorities.

The Soviet authorities are reported also to have agreed to refer the settlement of pending questions to the forthcoming diplomatic and Outer Mongol forces; including negotiations between Jupan, the Boviet and "Manchukuo."

Has Hitler Changed His Objective?

SPECULATION ON PRESENT LULL

PARIS, Uct. 23 " (Router)-The present luli on the Western Front is the subject of much semi-official speculation. One military observer states that the original German attack was intended to lead to an overwhelming offensive against the Maginot-Line. This did not take place and was followed by the German announcement that the first stage of the fighting in the west was finished.

Was this bluff, asks the observer, to cover up further arrivals of troops, or has Herr Hitler changed his objective and is he now focussing his attention on the North Sea?

CHINESE PRESS COMMENTS ON

The speech of Mr. Joseph Grew. American Ambassador to Japan delivered before the American Japan Society in Tokyo last week, was, described by the "Ta Kung Pao" in an editorial, as a reaffirmation of the United States' policy in the Far East."

The speech, which is the first of its kind made since the outbreak of the war in Europe, should be treated as important as the Note sent by the United States Govern ment to Japan on December 31 last year, the journal declares,

The journal sees in the speech not only a stiffening or America: stand in the Far East, but a warn. ing that"if Japan falls to repent what she is doing it will be most unlikely for America to conclude new commercial treaty with her

The "Sing Tao Jih Pao" says that the speech indicates that the United States is determined to safeguard her interests in the Far East under the Nine-Power Treaty.

Such an indication, the paper says, no doubt has given Japan a severe spiritual blow, but to prevent further Japanese encroachments upon American interests, more positive steps should be taken.

United States should immediately on Thursday, October 19, 1939:cease the supply of munitions to Japan and seek ways and means to A. Karim, R230 M. A. Hamet, R255 prevent Japanese from bringing A. S. COTTON: The bullish ideas of the favourable Washington news such as the financing system outlined by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in order to stimulate exports, and to expand domestic consumption were reflected in higher cotton prices. The export subsidy will be aimed to bring exports up to a minimum of '6,000,000 bales. The tight situation in Spot cotton and the prospects of higher mill wages continue to be the chief price substaining influences.

RUBBER: The ability of the world to absorb the increased tonnage resulting from an increase of 5 perweent, in this quarter's quota is being closely watched. WHEAT: The drought localities previously mentioned are now becoming a market factor.

NEW YORK STOCKS: Previous close, 153,00; To-day's close, 153,86; Change, up .88.
